ACHESON WILL REVEAL DRAFT OF ARMS AID

Secretary of State to Talk Costs When He Discusses Program With Senate Committee

SCHEDULED THURSDAY

Washington, April 20—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today he expects to talk costs when he discusses European arms aid with the Senate Foreign Relations committee tomorrow.

Acheson is to meet with the senators in a closed door session and go over the proposed plan to send military supplies to the United States North Atlantic allies.

There have been unofficial estimates that the first year of this project might cost $1,250,000,000.

Acheson told a news conference that he hopes to take before the Foreign Relations committee a proposed draft of arms aid legislation together with the total amount of money to be asked.

Considerable sentiment has built up in the senate for stripping all secrecy from the program.

Both friends and critics of the North Atlantic Security Alliance called for the State Department and the Senate Foreign Relations committee to lay the re-arms program wide open to the public. They gave their views to reporters.

Secretary of State Acheson plans to place a confidential report on the arms plan before the Foreign Relations committee on Thursday.

Unofficial reports say the re-arming of North Atlantic nations will cost about $1,250,000,000 in the first year. Details of the program have been kept secret.

Senator Morse (R-Ore) urged that the State Department and Foreign Relations committee disclose "all the facts" before the senate opens debate on the North Atlantic treaty.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said it is necessary that the congress gets "the whole picture" at one time.

Senator Malone (R-Nev) was suspicious of the entire proceeding, as he has been throughout the past discussions.

"This is just their customary practice," he said "to sell a bill of goods through their propaganda machine before giving it to the public."

He said the State Department wants to "jam the program through the senate" without disclosing all the information about it.

Other senators, including George (D-Ga), Taft (R-Ohio) and Wherry (R-Neb), favor bringing the arms program before the senate as quickly as possible.

Body of Wise Lies in State In Synagogue

New York, April 20—(AP)—The body of Dr. Stephen S. Wise, world famed Jewish leader and militant defender of liberal causes, will lie in state today at the Free Synagogue which he founded 42 years ago.

The noted 75-year-old rabbi, who spent a lifetime preaching for peace, freedom and tolerance, died yesterday at Lenox Hospital.

He had undergone an operation early this month for what the hospital called a "malignant stomach ailment."

His body will remain in state through tomorrow. Funeral services will be Friday in Carnegie Hall.

Death of the crusading rabbi, who was president of both the American Jewish Congress and of the World Jewish Congress, stirred sorrow around the world.

A pioneer of many progressive movements, Wise was a central figure in the long battle for establishment of a Jewish homeland in Palestine.

From rostrums here and abroad and in the hearing rooms of lawmakers, the blunt, outspoken rabbi fought in behalf of civil rights, labor and peace.

2,000 Are Attending "World Peace Congress" In France

Paris, April 20—(AP)—A Communist-sponsored world peace conference opened here today with a plea for the formation of peace committees throughout the world to carry out the congress' plans.

The French Communist atomic scientist, Frederic Joliot-Curie, told the 1,800 delegations from 52 nations:

"We will show the warmongers that they have to reckon with us. We fight this fight with the certainty of victory."

Joliot-Curie said an atomic war would be "terrible even for its initiators" but that the atom bomb or other atomic weapons would not be the decisive factor in the fight.

Escaped Kathy's Fate in Fall

Four-year-old Betty Johnson, right, of Urbana, Iowa, lies in bed at her home and talks over her dramatic escape from the fate that befell little Kathy Fiscus with her sisters, Judy, 6, and Sharon, 12. Betty fell into an 18-foot, water-filled well and was rescued by a neighbor, Mrs. Barney Jamison, who jumped in the well and held onto the child until firemen arrived and pulled them both safely out.

Brutality Charged Securing Confessions in Malmady Case

Washington, April 20—(AP)—A court reporter charged—and the chief prosecutor denied—today that brutality and threats were used to get confessions from Germans in the Malmady massacre case.

The prosecutor, Lt. Col. Burton F. Ellis, acknowledged to senate investigators that candle-lit mock

Many Killed And Hurt In Chile Quake

Santiago, Chile, April 20—(AP)—A severe earthquake hit south central Chile last night. First reports said 38 were killed and more than 80 injured, and authorities expressed fear the toll would be higher.

Heavy damage was reported in the cities of Traiguen and Angol. At Traiguen, believed to be the center of the quake, about 30 persons were reported killed in the collapse of a jail.

The ministry of interior relayed this unconfirmed report, and said it was told many others were injured at Traiguen in collapsing buildings. The ministry said it also received reports that at least five persons were killed at Angol.

The newspaper El Comercio's correspondent at Temuco said some were killed at Angol and at least one at Los Angeles. Concepcion, Talca and Temuco also felt the shock.

The government rushed aid to the region, where hundreds were reported homeless. A plane and a special train were on the way with emergency supplies.

City officials said half the houses in Angol had crumbled or were damaged. (Turn to Page Seven)

Teacher Pay Increase Heads For Final Legislative Action

Harrisburg, April 20—(AP)—A teacher salary increase today headed for final legislative approval without the oratorical fireworks of previous years.

The measure, adopted unanimously by the house and sent to the senate, would establish the highest maximum mandated teacher salaries in the state's history at an estimated cost to the state of $4,000,000 more than urged in Gov. James H. Duff's budget.

And the senate, just as quietly, approved a companion measure to increase state grants to local districts to provide the funds for the boosts.

"It is a piece of work that anyone can be proud of," commented Chairman Raymond D. Sollenger (R-Blair) of the house education committee. "That is the finest salary schedule ever established anywhere."

It sets up a mandated salary maximum of $3,400 a year for teachers with standard certificates, one of $3,800 for those with college degrees and $4,000 for teachers with master's degrees. In addition the starting pay was made uniform at $2,000 a year.

A 1947 law already provides automatic increases of $150 a year for experienced teachers and the measure would increase this boost to $200.

The senate measure would establish a $2,450 subsidy maximum for next year and another of $3,350 for the 1950-51 school term. The higher amount is necessary to provide for the shift from assessed to market values of real estate as the basis of school grants.

BUS-TROLLEY CRASH
Pittsburgh, April 20—(AP)—Four persons suffered face cuts yesterday in a laundry truck-street car collision on the Northside. The four, all trolley passengers, were cut by flying glass. They were released after hospital treatment.

BRITISH SHIP FIRED ON BY CHINESE REDS

Doughty Destroyer Consort Reaches Port After Fifty Mile Duel With Shore Guns

SLOOP BADLY DAMAGED

Shanghai, April 20—(AP)—Communist shore artillery today crippled the British sloop Amethyst in the Yangtze river and drove off the destroyer consort before she could help the smaller vessel.

The helpless Amethyst, with at least 20 wounded or dead among her crew of 148, was aground on Rose Island 60 miles northeast of Nanking tonight. Not far away swirled the first attacks of the resurgent Chinese civil war.

The consort, fighting shore batteries for almost 50 miles, reached Kiangyin tonight with 17 of her crew wounded. She was joined by the frigate Black Swan which had doctors and medical supplies aboard.

(In London, it was officially announced that the consort was hit in a gun duel with shore batteries on the Yangtze and suffered "some few casualties.")

Lord Fraser, first sea lord, told a news conference "we have not had much more news except that the consort has been in action. She silenced the opposition for a bit. She then went up river to turn around and was hit suffering some few casualties."

The British cruiser London was expected to reach Kiangyin at 9 p. m. (8 a. m. EST). Vice Adm. A. G. Madden, second in command of the British Far East station, is aboard the London. British authorities here said they were unable to contact responsible Communist quarters and Admiral Madden would determine his course later.

Fliers out of Nanking witnessed the running duel between the consort and Red shore batteries.

Foreign airmen saw the running fight. The consort was 15 miles below Rose Island, where the silent Amethyst lay aground. Rose Island is 60 miles northeast of Nanking and 160 miles upstream from Shanghai.

From the air the observers were unable to spot any activity aboard the grounded Amethyst. Her flags, the ground still flew.

Chinese naval sources, which reported 20 casualties aboard the Amethyst to British quarters in Nanking, denied any shots had been fired by Nationalist gunners along the south shore of the river.

The foreign airmen, who were not further identified, said the consort, which left Nanking in the morning, may have stopped at the Amethyst to pick up casualties before proceeding downstream toward Shanghai.

British sources said the consort attempted to contact other British warships by radio earlier.

Her radio was heard to say: "In view of fire couldn't."

The consort's radio stopped there. It was possible her antennae were shot away and that shore fire prevented crewmen from replying.

It was not known whether the shore batteries were Communist or Nationalist. The Communists line the north bank, the Nationalists the south. Neither was it known whether the British answered the shore guns.

In London, the admiralty said a British destroyer "replied effectively" to heavy artillery fire as it steamed down the Yangtze river from Nanking to aid a grounded British sloop hit by Chinese artillery.

The destroyer was the H. M. S. Consort.

The statement added that the frigate H. M. S. Black Swan is racing to the aid of the grounded Amethyst from Shanghai and that the 10,000-ton cruiser H. M. S. London is expected to arrive at Shanghai from sea later today.

DEAD DUCK OFFERED IN EVIDENCE AT TRIAL

Easton, April 20—(AP)—A jury is not often shown the bodies of victims as evidence in a court case.

A Northampton county court jury was presented with that situation yesterday—but the evidence in this case was a pile of dead ducks.

Anthony D. and Helen M. Mitchell were seeking to prove that 500 of their ducks had been killed by a broken pipeline of the Tidewater Pipe Co., Ltd., Bradford.

The two litigants, who said the ducks were killed by oil which flowed from the severed line into the Bushkill Creek near their farm, brought a pile of the dead fowl into court.

SALESMEN ON STRIKE

Pittsburgh, April 20—(AP)—Ninety-six salesmen drivers employed by the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. in East Liberty were idle for the second day today.

Melvin A. Humphreys, vice president of Local 249, AFL General Teamsters Union, said the walkout is in protest of a change in working conditions.

Myers Urges Full Budget For Penn's Flood Control Program

Washington, April 20—(AP)—Senator Myers (D-Pa) today asked the senate appropriations committee to grant full budget requests for flood control and river and harbor work in Pennsylvania.

And in addition he asked that it go beyond the budget bureau and the house by granting $2,000,000 more for work at Williamsport, Pa., $4,000,000 more for Delaware river activities at Philadelphia, and $1,500,000 to get a flood control project under way at Bradford, Pa.

His recommendations were in a statement for a senate appropriations subcommittee. The group is hearing testimony on a bill to provide funds for civil functions of the state engineers during the 12 months beginning July 1.

In his references to Pennsylvania's projects in general he renewed an argument that was batted back and forth in the house when that body had the same appropriation bill under consideration.

The house appropriations committee had recommended two things.

One was that the amounts recommended for all flood control and river and harbor work—throughout the nation—be cut 15 per cent.

The other was that unobligated funds for this work existing as of June 30 be returned to the treasury.

It said it ordered the 15 per cent cut because it believed costs would decline that much next year. If costs didn't decline that much, said the committee, then supplementary funds would be provided.

Similarly, the house committee argued that recapturing unobligated funds would not affect any of the work, either.

In general, the house upheld the committee. The only exceptions did not affect Pennsylvania.

Myers today disagreed with the said engineers estimate the house action is equivalent to a 26 per cent reduction in flood control funds and a 37 per cent reduction in funds for rivers and harbors. He asked therefore that the 15 per cent cut and the recapture clause be stricken from the bill.

Storm Develops Over Moves To Restrict Local Tax Plans

Harrisburg, April 20—(AP)—A legislative storm blew up today around moves to restrict the authority of local communities to levy taxes under a 1947 law.

The fight centered around a proposal to take away Pittsburgh's authority to impose a two mill retail mercantile tax under the controversial local tax law.

Sen. Joseph Barr (D-Allegheny) estimated the change would cost Pittsburgh $500,000 a year in revenue.

The amendment was proposed by Sen. Theodore Doehla (R-Allegheny) and immediately won Republican majority support. But action on the amendment and the bill itself was held up due to Barr's announcement he would fight it to the bitter end.

Barr, who voted for the administration's state tax program, was reported ready to carry the fight to Gov. James H. Duff if necessary.

The bill revising the 1947 local tax law was ready for a vote when the unexpected difficulties arose. It would bar local taxes on coal and other natural resources, manufacturing and farm products, and the income of non-residents of municipalities imposing wage taxes.

The only municipality exempt from the 1947 law is Philadelphia but its wage tax on non-residents was threatened from another direction.

Sen. G. Robert Watkins (R-Delaware) won some Republican support for a measure designed to prohibit any municipality from taxing earnings of persons residing outside its boundaries, effective Jan. 1, 1951.

In the house, a vote was slated on an administration measure to continue the state soft drink tax on carbonated water after June 1.

The senate, meanwhile, formally ended any chance of action this year on a proposal to shift a fifth of the cost of relief to counties and give them complete control of administration. The measure was returned to committee for further study.

But a proposal for an investigation by the general assembly's Joint State Government Commission into the entire public assistance program won senate support.

The house unanimously passed and sent to the senate a bill giving most of Pennsylvania's 60,000 teachers a $200 a year boost in pay and establishing the highest mandated teacher salaries in the state's history.

The senate also passed a measure to increase state grants to pay for the state's 222,000 school children. It increased maximum state subsidies to $2,450 a teaching unit next year and $3,350 a unit for the 1950-51 school term when grants are based on market values of real estate in school districts instead of assessed valuations.

Man Who Fathered Fast Time Is Dead

Elizabethtown, April 20—(AP)—Robert Garland, who gained widespread recognition as the "father of Daylight Saving Time," died yesterday at his home here yesterday as the result of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 86.

Garland came to the United States at the age of 15 from his native Dugganagh, Ireland, and in the next 60 years became prominent in the industrial and civic life of Pittsburgh.

He founded the Garland Manufacturing Co., an electrical conduit firm, in 1890. He served several terms on the Pittsburgh City Council and during World War I was war resources committee chairman for western Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

At the same time he gained national prominence for his fight to get the nation an extra hour of daylight. The plan was adopted, despite widespread opposition by farm groups, and then was repealed in 1918.

Garland later lived to see his idea adopted throughout the country.

SERIOUS FIGHTING REPORTED BY GOVERNMENT SOURCES 60 MILES AWAY FROM NANKING

Nanking, April 20—(AP)—The dreaded Chinese civil war exploded all along the Yangtze river front tonight.

Communist attacks were started at several points. Gunfire could be heard and for the first time of the war seen from the capital.

Pukow, across the river was under attack. Kiangu, on the north bank seven miles southwest of Nanking, was hit. Serious fighting was reported by government sources opposite Wuhu, 60 miles southwest of here.

A top ranking Nationalist general expressed fear the Reds may try a quick landing in this vicinity, trapping Nationalist officials in the capital.

The general feeling at the moment is that WUHU is the government's weak point. The river front there provides a good landing area.

A high ranking ministry of national defense source said the Red attacks seemed to be directed at all Nationalist positions on the north bank of the river. There are only a few Nationalist pockets left on the north bank.

Earlier Premier Ho-Ying-Chun told the Chinese parliament the government had rejected Red peace proposals in their present form.

Ho told the legislators that the Communist plan would not provide for lasting peace, a member disclosed after the secret parliament meeting. The legislator quoted Ho as saying the terms were those laid down by a victor.

The premier stressed the fact that the Red terms were not in keeping with efforts of the government to seek peace.

Ho indicated that the basis for the government rejection of the Red terms was more general than simply an objection to a river crossing.

The premier said the Nationalists had asked the Communists to reconsider their demands for immediate surrender of the government. National peace delegates in helping have been instructed to convey the government's answer to the Communists at once, Ho said.

At midnight (11 a. m. EST) a Communist ultimatum to the government to surrender will expire. Most observers feel the war will start over again shortly thereafter, although the government reply to the ultimatum contains an undisclosed counterproposal.

Several Nationalist leaders already have left Nanking. Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, Central China commander, flew to Hankow to join his 200,000 troops. All minor government executives in that western river city are being evacuated.

Kuomintang party leader Wu Te-Chen and Nationalist peace delegate Huang Shao-Hsiung, who brought the Red ultimatum from Peiping Saturday, flew to Canton to inform party leaders of developments.

Gen. Chang Chun, southwest China commander, flew to Chukow, south of Shanghai, to present the government's decision to retired President Chiang Kai-Shek.

A night meeting of the cabinet is scheduled. It proposes to map plans of action should the Communists hurl their 1,000,000 seasoned troops from north of the river against the 500,000 Nationalist defenders scattered along the south bank.

Driscoll Winner In Jersey G.O.P. Battle

Newark, N. J., April 20—(AP)—Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll scored a better than two-to-one primary election victory yesterday in his campaign for renomination by the Republican party.

Although Driscoll's win was expected, his opponent, Robert L. Adams, virtually a political unknown, pulled up a surprising vote total.

The complete returns showed Driscoll carried 18 of New Jersey's 21 counties. The three counties in Adams' column are in rural areas. Driscoll recently suspended a state order fixing a minimum price on retail milk.

Driscoll's opponent in the November general election will be State Senator Elmer H. Wene, a former U. S. representative, who was unopposed in the Democratic primary.

Wene, prominent chick breeder who has the backing of Frank Hague, state Democratic leader, chairman, drew 106,691 votes from and Democratic national vice 2,091 districts.

The New Jersey gubernatorial race will be one of the nation's top election battles in the fall.

Goal for Cancer Fund Drive In County Is Set at $5,444.00

A goal of $5,444.00 for Warren County will be sought during the 1949 American Cancer Society fund drive which is now going on, it was announced today by Richard Meacham, chairman of the campaign committee for the Warren unit.

"Fixing of this goal," said Mr. Meacham "will provide us with a general objective, a sort of target that should be struck not once but as many times over as possible."

Mr. Meacham explained that the goal was assigned by the Pennsylvania Division and the National Office of the society and is an approximate share of what the community should raise in proportion to other towns and cities.

In an effort to help raise this amount, the Junior Chamber of Commerce Cancer committee will stage a tag day this Friday and Saturday on the streets of Warren. High school and junior high school girls will sell the tags from 4 to 9 p. m. Friday and until 6 p. m. Saturday. The Jaycees will set up headquarters at the West Penn Oil Co. corner of Third Avenue and Liberty streets.

Last year the cancer campaign netted $4,900 of which over $2,000.00 was from the sale of tags. It is hoped that this year a like amount will be donated and that with the mail solicitation now going on Warren county's drive will be another success.

Meeting Held Of District YM Officers

Willard C. Cox of Titusville was elected chairman of the northwest district of the State Y. M. C. A. at the organization's annual meeting in the Methodist church in Cory Monday night. The meeting was attended by more than 100 persons from the district, which embraces seven counties.

Having served as vice chairman the previous year, Mr. Cox presided at the meeting. Other officers chosen were Charles Massing of Erie, vice chairman, and Daniel Walton of Warren, secretary.

Speaker of the evening was Dr. Mark A. Dawbar, executive secretary of the Home Missions Council of North America. Dealing with "Christian Vocations," Dr. Dawbar said there is room for Christian government in the United States and in the world. He stressed that there must be more Christian education, and remarked that today youth is taught cleverness instead of decency.

J. E. Jack of Titusville is a new member of the Y.M.C.A. State Committee.

STORE HOURS DISPUTE

Titusville Herald: Titusville stores—probably all of them, but 37 for sure—will be open for business Friday night, May 13, and every Friday night thereafter. That was the outcome of an independent meeting of representatives from 29 retail establishments in the Y.M.C.A. last evening. Ralph Archer, acting as chairman, announced as the meeting ended that "it is understood that we go ahead with Friday opening on the 13th if they don't." "They" refers to the Retail Bureau of the Titusville Chamber of Commerce, whose board of directors in the past has turned thumbs down on Friday nights. Saturday has been the traditional "open night" here for years. Michael Wieder, of Tieg & Company, early in the meeting presented a proposal from the Bureau's board. It was this: In the interest of unity, the independents were asked to put off definite action until after a special meeting, this Friday, at all Bureau members. A Friday-Saturday vote would be taken at this meeting, and the majority vote to be binding.

Sylvania Apprentice Honored

Congratulated: Robert Peterson, graduate tool and diemaker is congratulated by Thomas Gannoe, general foreman of Sylvania and Richard Schumacher, personnel director of the Warren Plant, L. E. Johnsen, district representative of the International Correspondence Schools who arranged the related training, is shown on the left.

Robert Peterson of 107 Crescent Street was honored recently when he completed his four year apprenticeship as a tool and die maker. Peterson was the first apprentice in the Warren plant to complete his shop work and finish the related training in tool making through International Correspondence Schools. A graduate of Warren high, Peterson received his I.C.S. diploma from Thomas Gannoe, general foreman. He was also congratulated by Richard Schumacher, personnel director of the Warren plant and L. E. Johnsen, district representative of the International Correspondence Schools who in addition to enrolling five apprentices has inducted over 30 other employees in this plant for business and shop courses. The apprentice program arranged by Sylvania has included I.C.S. courses since 1933. The company refunds half the cost of the related training to all apprentices who complete their courses.

Two Bids For Broadcasting Flood News

Harrisburg—Two bids were received recently for a radio communications network to be used by the Federal-State Flood Forecasting service in collecting and disseminating vital flood and weather information.

The Motorola Corporation, of Chicago, Illinois, offered a base bid of $364,610 and the Raymond-Rosen Engineering Products, Inc., of Philadelphia, $250,240.

Plans call for modernization and extension of the Susquehanna River Basin network, and at a later date, to establish new networks in the Delaware River and the Ohio River basins.

Approximately 50 locations in the Susquehanna basin will be linked by radio with the forecasting office in Harrisburg. Eighteen of these stations will have audible and visual alarms that will permit Harrisburg to attract the attention of the operators in event of an emergency.

Plans also call for four strategic locations to be equipped with automatic river level devices which will record the river level of these locations in the forecast office at Harrisburg and provide a continuous record of the rise and fall of the river.

Edward I. the first Prince of Wales, is believed to have been born in Caernarvon, Wales.

BENEFIT DANCE
The Kinzua Volunteer Fire Department will sponsor a benefit dance Friday, April 22, at Morrison's garage in Kinzua. Hours will be from 9:30 p. m. to 12:30 a. m., and music for round and square dancing will be furnished by the Gail Graham orchestra of Warren.

CAMP GET-TOGETHER
Those who attended the Lutheran Boys Camp session last summer will be entertained at a get-together at Camp Birdsall Edey on Saturday evening of this week. Fathers of the boys will be sponsors for the gathering, which will include special entertainment and refreshments.

WARNS FISHERMEN
Forests and Waters Secretary M. F. Draemel made a special appeal to trout fishermen to be "especially careful with fire while in or near woodlands." Coincidental with the opening of the trout fishing season is the period of greatest hazard in the forests so far as fire is concerned, Secretary Draemel asserted. The months of April and May are the two months of the year during which most forest fires occur in Pennsylvania.

DAIRY PRODUCTS REPORT
Pennsylvania farm flocks made sure that a plentiful supply of eggs would be on hand for Easter when, during March, they turned out 51 million more eggs than in February. The March total was 37 million eggs, the State Department of Agriculture reported from Federal-State surveys. Not to be outdone by the flocks, dairy herds of Pennsylvania last month set an all-time production record for any March with 485 million pounds of milk. It was the fifth straight month that new monthly milk production records have been established in Pennsylvania, beginning with last November.

HIGHWAY DEATHS OFF
There were nine fewer fatalities on Pennsylvania rural roads during March of this year than in the same month last year, according to a report released from State Police Headquarters at Harrisburg. There were 60 fatalities on rural highways during March, 1949, or 13 per cent less than occurred in the same month the previous year when 69 persons were killed. In the first three months of 1949 there were 171 deaths, or five per cent less than in the same period in 1948 when 180 fatalities occurred. In January, 1949, there were 66 deaths, as compared with 44 in January last year. February fatalities numbered 45 in 1949, while there were 67 during February, 1948.

MARCH 'E' BOND SALES
E. A. Roberts, State Advisory Chairman, U. S. Savings Bonds Division, has announced that during the month of March the citizens of Pennsylvania invested $31,984,883.75 in series E Savings Bonds, through the payroll deduction plan where they work and through purchases made at banks and postoffices. March E bond sales were sixteen percent more than the sales for February of this year, and fourteen percent more than E bond sales for March 1948. Furthermore, redemptions in this state are declining each month and have reached a new low. Total sales of E, F and G Savings Bonds for Pennsylvania amounted to $43,059,249.75. Warren county's total sales were $98,551.00.

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 19—(P)—There are rumors here that Russia is getting ready to lift the Berlin blockade.

They're starting at a pretty important time, as this story will show.

This is the setting: The Russians, Americans, British and French occupy four sectors of Berlin, just as they hold four zones of Germany.

The four wartime allies agreed on that division when Germany surrendered. But Berlin is entirely within the Russian zone.

So the other three nations had to send supplies overland through the Russian zone to their Berlin sectors.

About a year ago Russia blocked all land approaches from the west to Berlin.

Since then this country has had to send supplies in by plane—the airlift—at a cost of around $5,000,000 a month now.

Because of their own blockade, the Russians shut themselves off from the industrial supplies they've needed from the American, British and French zones of Germany.

Lifting the blockade would let those supplies in. That might be one reason for lifting it. Another might be a real desire to ease the east-west tension, for Russia hasn't been winning the cold war.

Any other reasons? Several, maybe. For instance, throwing a monkey wrench into the plans of the United States, Britain and France to set up a new German government in their western zones.

In the first place, the Russians and her three former allies have never reached any kind of peace settlement on Germany.

The western powers have refused to talk with Russia about a settlement until the blockade is lifted.

Meanwhile, they've gone ahead with plans, and hopes, for setting up the German government in their zones. This would be a western German government, separate from whatever was done in the Russian zone.

But Russia might have something else in mind, such as throwing a harpoon into the Atlantic pact and the Marshall plan.

Congress hasn't yet this year tackled the problem of actually voting money for the Marshall plan or money for arms under the Atlantic pact.

But if, through lifting of the Berlin blockade, congress thought the tension and danger in Europe was easing, then—

It might cut down Marshall plan aid and not vote any money at all for our allies in the pact.

What a cut in the Marshall plan might do to the economic recovery of our allies and what withholding arms might do to their confidence in our friendship, is something that can't be foretold.

But any peaceful move by Russia, such as lifting the blockade, doesn't mean Russia has lost a battle or retreated a step. It might mean only that she is temporarily sidestepping.

Lenin long ago told his Communists the final goal is the important thing and that it's all right temporarily to compromise or step back so long as such tactics lead at last to that final goal.

Nearly 4000 Pennsylvania communities, approximately 43% of the total, have no other type of transportation service and depend solely on motor transport for their daily necessities.

All communities... all other forms of transportation... depend on motor trucks for ultimate delivery of goods.

Practically all products move by truck at some stage of the journey. Trucks carry most of the fresh fruits, vegetables and livestock, and practically all of the milk and bread. They also haul the coal and oil to heat your home, and move your household goods.

Trucks have made expansion of communities possible, and extended commerce to previously isolated areas. You can thank the truck for bringing you everything you eat, wear and use—when and where you want it!

NEED FOR WELFARE LEGISLATION

It may be that the Republican party came to a turning point the other morning at the closed-door conference of GOP senators in Washington, says James Thrasher in an editorial written for NEA Service and the Times-Mirror. They were discussing their policy toward the Administration's social legislation program when Senator Taft arose with some blunt words of advice for his more conservative colleagues.

He is said to have told them that they should support a sound social welfare program or risk political suicide. "If you deny the Republican Party's interest in the welfare of the low income people of this nation," he reportedly said, "there soon won't be any Republican Party."

That sort of advice to Republicans is not new. But here it wasn't so much what was said as who said it. Mr. Taft's opinion carries great weight among Republicans in Congress. And it is in Congress that the Republican record is really made. A group of stand-pat legislators consistently ignores the more liberal domestic planks of the GOP platforms. Unquestionably the stand-patters have had a lot to do with keeping a Democrat in the White House for the last 16 years.

Some people seem to think that Mr. Taft gained his party's leadership in the Senate by embodying all the reactionary tradition of the Old Guard. That is not correct. He has reached his present position because he is highly intelligent, honest, an authority on law and law-making, and a man with a great capacity for work. He is also unpredictable, extremely independent, and almost unshakable in his opinions. These last qualities are not ordinarily endearing to political followers. But Mr. Taft is respected for his integrity even by his colleagues who disagree with him.

The Ohio senator is well to the right on several issues. He is "liberal" on others. He is a strong advocate of federal aid for housing and education and of voluntary health insurance. It was the decision of other senators to oppose these measures that called forth his warning to them.

Mr. Taft's support of the social welfare program will make him guilty of the crime of "me too" in some Republican eyes. But he differs with the Administration on the route to a common goal. He says he wants to see these measures enacted in a way to give considerable state and local control, and get the desired results without hampering free enterprise or initiative.

It has been said that Mr. Taft has started a "liberal revolt" that has split the GOP wide open. But the party in Congress is already split. A liberal revolt against the present leadership at the beginning of the present session failed dismally because it lacked leadership. Now the liberals have Senator Taft on their side, at least on certain issues. It ought to make quite a difference.

The younger and more progressive Republicans in Congress should have a chance to speak with a stronger voice. The old GOP idea that all Democratic proposals of social legislation must be opposed, flatly and with no counter-proposals, has led to one-sided government. It has seriously weakened the Republican Party and endangered the two-party system.

The GOP can, as Mr. Taft suggests, do something for the "low income people" without becoming a carbon copy of the New Deal. He has shown how it can be done, and what will happen if it is not done. Both parties and the whole country will be better off in the end if his advice is heeded by his fellow congressmen.

This is the day which the victorious Chinese Communists set as the deadline for an answer to their ultimatum demanding virtually unconditional surrender of the groggy and disorganized Nationalist forces. Thus today's maneuvering is likely to be written down as one of the most critical in the world war between Communism and all other political creeds. The fate not only of China but of Asia as a whole is involved. Indeed the conflict of the isms may ultimately be decided in that vast theater.

Americans are growing more insincere in their phone conversations, according to a New York chief operator. "Women are overdoing the giggle and flattery," she says, while men call almost any woman 'honey' or 'darling.'" It also seems that some critics of our manners and morals are overdoing the pastime of listening in on private telephone conversations.

Clear skies and sunshine like that of today make up for many wet and disagreeable days earlier in the spring.

Most of our profanity is said to have been used 800 years ago. Aw, golf surely isn't that old!

Here And There

Potpourri: To prevent a repetition of the Raccoon River property of Joseph Hasset in Corry, will be securely covered over. The well had a wood cover which had rotted away. Children play nearby. Similar safety measures are reported in other communities, which suggests that steps be taken to make certain that no such traps lurk on properties in Warren county. Our old friend Tommy Moore of Jamestown, N. Y., former boxer and now a professional, was in Warren and dropped in for a chat, during which he disclosed that he is planning to stage a few boxing bouts in Jamestown during the summer months. This will be good news to fight fans in Warren. Tommy looks just as keen as ever, and talks enthusiastically of the prospects for reviving the boxing game in his old home town. Here's a little warning for Warren motorists: having occasion to visit Jamestown, Police in the nearby city took in $40 in fines over the weekend with the majority of the money being collected for stop sign and stop light violations.

The annual spring furniture show in Jamestown will be held from May two to eight. Officials of the show disclosed 14 manufacturers have planned exhibits, and it is expected the display will be one of the finest since the war and feature many new styles in furniture designs. Over fifty were in attendance at the annual Easter sunrise service conducted by the Knights Templar in Masonic hall Sunday morning at 6:30 o'clock. The Newell is having constructed a lift for its trucks which should make it a lot easier for the men who do the loading and unloading, especially at this season of the year when backaches are prevalent due to gardening, housecleaning, lawn work, trout fishing and golf. A breach in the tanking among Titusville storekeepers on Friday and Saturday night store hours developed an outright split among merchants, acting independently of the Retail Merchants Bureau. Those merchants favoring Saturday night were not invited to a meeting in order to make the session a "when" and "how" proposition as far as switching from Saturday night. Says an item in the Warren Ledger of April 20, 1939: "This has been a busy week among lumbermen. The high water of the last week subsided so that rafts have been running with safety since Monday. The water is falling slowly owing to the melting snow in the woods and the late rains. The winter was favorable for getting in logs and therefore there has been an unusual quantity to run this spring. The weather and the water have been favorable, and the lumbermen as a nearly happy as mortals can be." Jack Neal, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Neal, of 12 Elm street, is doing all right by himself with a rod and reel in Texas. Here's a newspaper clipping received by family members that tells of Jack's angling success: "He doesn't stretch his arms and show how big those fish were: Jack Neal, of Rio Grande City, border inspector, takes his friends around to his home. There he shows them the 'proof'—called to the wall. Each time Jack lands a bass of considerable size, he saves the head, opens the jaws as wide as they'll go, then rascals the head to the wall of the garage. He has an imposing array thus far. The latest addition is the head of a six and one-half pound bass he yanked a few weeks ago from one of the bass ponds on a State County ranch. That size of a fish is no mite as experienced anglers will testify."

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Postmaster General Hopes to Legislate Mail Pay Revision

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson has begun two moves to make the railroads submit to a full cost analysis before new rates for hauling the mail are determined. First, he has just defied the Interstate Commerce Commission. In a reply to the American Association of Railroads' subsidiary, the Railway Mail Transportation Committee, which asks for a 35 per cent interim increase in pay on top of a previously granted 25 per cent raise, the postmaster general charges that under the Railway Mail Act of 1916 the ICC is without authority to grant such interim increases before full hearings are concluded. The grounds on which the postmaster general makes his claim are that the railroads have refused to file basic data in support of the original 25 per cent increase, though they were ordered to do so. Arne C. Wiprud, special counsel for the postmaster general in this railway mail case, goes so far as to say that the railroads do not intend to produce this evidence. Wiprud's statement to the ICC quotes the counsel for the roads' Committee on Railway Mail Transportation to the effect that the essential evidence "consists of payrolls . . . and calculations based thereon at the source of information." The implication drawn is that if the Post Office Department and the ICC want this information, they can go to some 1200 railroad stations throughout the country and dig it out themselves. Wiprud calls this defiance of the government.

HEARINGS on these points before the ICC has been set for May 24. A decision by the ICC is hoped for by June 1. If the decision states that the Post Office Department must pay a second interim increase, there are indications that the postmaster general may refuse to pay them, and throw the case into the courts. In the meantime, Postmaster General Donaldson has begun attack on this railway mail pay issue on a second front. In new legislation submitted to Congress, the Post Office Department has asked for a number of revisions of the Railway Mail Pay Act of 1916. One revision would require the railroads to furnish the postmaster general with such information and evidence as he may request for determining proper payment for railway mail transportation. If such information were not furnished, the Post Office Department would be authorized to withhold payment until the evidence is furnished. Under present schedules—established 20 and 30 years ago—the roads charge the government the fully-loaded rate for all mail cars returned empty. Empty express and freight cars are of course moved without charge to the shipper.

BUT the U. S. Post Office Department is required to pay 52 cents per car-mile for the movement of its empties. This is double the highest comparable rate of 26 cents per car-mile charged for the movement of loaded express cars. Over the past 20 years it is estimated that this charge for the movement of empty mail cars has cost the government about $400,000,000. The government's General Accounting Office has now recommended abolition of the full-rate payment for movement of empty mail cars. This point reduces the whole battle royal between the government and the railroads to its fundamentals—which are rates. Postmaster General Donaldson—a career man in the Postal Service—has been working desperately on all fronts to reduce the $500,000,000 a year deficit of his department. He wants fair rates for services rendered and services received—on a business basis. The railway mail pay case could be settled by June 1 if the railroads would co-operate on a new cost study for its biggest and best customer, which now pays the roads over $200,000,000 a year. Instead, the railroads seem to be trying to get their 65 per cent interim increases without having to show their costs.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

1929
A well-known Warren contractor and an architect have announced the formation of a new company to engage in general construction work in this section. C. L. Gamble is president of the new firm, A. E. Kinney, secretary. . . . A state convention of music clubs is scheduled for April 24, 25 and 26, here in Warren. Director Barnes is busy rehearsing the Warren Community Chorus for its appearance at that time. . . . Chief Frank Dumble of Youngsville is issuing a final warning to owners of dogs and chickens to the effect that neither will be allowed to run at large in the borough. . . . The wide lawn between the sidewalk and curb on the Fourth avenue side of the Elk property is being graded over and repainted, which, with the new trees placed there a week ago, much improves the appearance of the club. . . . The windows of Geracinos store have been attractively remodeled. Children of the second and third grades at the Home Street school enjoyed a kite-flying frolic. Those who succeeded in keeping their kites in the air for one-half hour are Carl Hagerman, second grade, and Harold Hiner and Earl Sundell, third grade. . . . W. P. Nutting, Youngsville, took the lead in the contest for the rubber boots offered by the Smith Shoe Store for the largest brook trout caught during the present season, when he got a fish fifteen inches long and weighing a pound and six ounces.

1939
A survey of several coal dealers in Warren has disclosed that the industrial plants of this city may face an extremely acute situation unless there is a prompt settlement of the bituminous coal strike now going on in the Appalachian region. . . . Newly elected officers of the Warren Rotary club were Honore L. Blair, president; Ogden Fitz-Simmons, vice president; Paul Braunschweiger, secretary; William Yeager, treasurer. . . . There will be an eclipse of the sun tomorrow, but only California will get a good view. . . . The Ladies' Aid of the Stoneham M. E. church will meet at the home of Mrs. Arthur Probst of Cleveland Heights. . . . Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Weatherby have returned from a trip to Philadelphia, Harrisburg and York. While in Philadelphia, Mr. Weatherby attended the Jefferson Day dinner at the Bellevue Hotel. . . . There was a chimney fire at the home of Nels Bergstrom. . . . Another of Warren's old landmarks is to be removed. The razing of the former borough building at the corner of Hickory street and Third avenue has been started by the New Process Company. The building was originally built as an engine house to take care of the fire-fighting equipment of the city's fire department. The time consisted of hand-drawn vehicles.

Mackenzie's Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
2nd Foreign Affairs Analyst

While his countrymen danced through the streets of Dublin last night in joyous celebration of the Irish republic's complete independence from the British crown, my good friend President Sean O'Kelly laid out a further task for them to perform. . . . Quit speaking English, he admonished in a broadcast, and restore the Gaelic language. The raising of the republic's flag would be an empty victory if the Irish lost their tongue. . . . Well, I never yet knew an Irishman who lost his tongue—but of course we get the president's point. He wants to give Ireland the individuality of her ancient independence. And if you know your Irish, you can understand that sentiment.

Someone asked me yesterday what it was that finally won southern Ireland her complete severance from England. My thought was that there were two qualities mainly responsible: An ever-burning spirit to win through, and the willingness to die if necessary for convictions.

Sean O'Kelly typifies that unflinching adherence to an ideal which he'd become a spiritual urge. He has devoted his life to the cause.

Ever since his youth he has been in the thick of the battle for Irish independence, finally landing in the presidential residence.

The idea of reviving Gaelic isn't new, of course, since the campaign started several decades ago, but apparently President O'Kelly is bent on giving it a fillip. Of far greater importance was the call by both him and Premier John A. Costello for a union of the six counties of northern Ireland (Ulster) with the 26 of the republic.

Perhaps time will result in a union, but there is no present indication that it can be brought about in the near future. The feeling is bitter. It is only two months ago that this question was threshed out in a general election in northern Ireland and the decision was that Ulster wanted to remain a part of the United Kingdom.

Buffalo, N. Y., regarded as the world's largest milling center, produces as much as 12,000,000 barrels of flour a year.

Backstage Crews Make Preparations for Senior Comedy

While Director Kathryn Martin and members of her cast are ironing out last-minute wrinkles in preparation for public presentation of "The Mummy and the Mumps", on Thursday and Friday evenings, April 25-26, in the high school auditorium, other members of the senior class are hard at work in the various departments which make up the backstage crew.

Assistant directors for the show are Ruth Davis and Margaret Eustice. Business managers taking charge of ticket sales and other business matters that arise are Emma Lou Plummer, Mary Ellen Riche, and Nancy Whipple.

The setting, a girls' school in New England, has been designed and painted by Marcia Richardson, Frank Carr, John Elliott, Dick Hamilton, and Dave Millemus, who spent several hours of their Easter vacation working on it.

Ruth Bengtson has been given the assignment of providing the numerous sound effects necessary to the action.

JoAnn Hickey, Connie Mazzuca, and Carol Siefert, are looking for the summer dresses and suits for the cast. Also needed is a dress which will fit over the shoulders of a boy, who will wear it as a disguise.

The committee on properties, Joyce Dyke, Nancy Lee Plummer and Jeanne Turner, has found its job exciting. The list of needed properties, which reads like something you would find on a scavenger hunt, includes "precipitated" milk, a lorgnette, oars, and a feather fan.

Make-up artists for the actors are Patty Brown and Mary Louise Anderson. The publicity is being handled by Allen Anderson and the posters used have been made by the High School Art Department.

Mrs. Vance Weld Renamed President By the Members of Blue Stocking Club

Low bowls of yellow jonquils and forsythia, flanked by tall blue candles in crystal holders, were arranged by Mrs. F. L. Plummer and Mrs. Edith Smith to form an attractive table setting for the annual luncheon-meeting of Blue Stocking Club at the YWCA activities building on Tuesday. Grace was given by Mrs. H. H. Barr.

In the business session which followed, the president, Mrs. Vance Weld was reelected president for the coming year with the following as her officers: First vice president, Mrs. Leon Johnson; second vice president, Miss Ethel Morris; secretary, Mrs. R. L. Blodgett; assistant secretary, Mrs. Brackett Ayers; treasurer, Mrs. R. E. Sires. The report of the nominating committee was presented by Mrs. Harriett Wilkins.

Following Mrs. Blodgett's minutes of the last meeting, Mrs. Weld thanked her committee and called for a report from Mrs. Burr Walker on selection of a club representative to the Troop 57 Girl Scout committee. Mrs. Walker announced acceptance of Mrs. Ayers for this assignment.

Announcement was made concerning the national Federation convention in Florida and the state

Jaycee Auxiliary Busy With Plans

Mrs. Glenn Nelson, president, was in charge of the regular meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary, held Monday evening at the YMCA.

After the formal opening of the session, she read a letter from the school board in recognition of the letter written by the organization in regard to reestablishment of kindergartens in the borough schools.

A brief report on the fluorine project was given and a larger committee assigned to complete the task.

There was some discussion concerning the state convention and Mrs. Alex Fino, delegate from the organization, spoke of convention plans. Members were asked to present at the next monthly meeting the suggestions they would like placed before the convention.

Members were reminded that the May meeting is the time for election of officers and all were urged to be in attendance and participate in the choice to be made.

At the close of the business session, Sidney W. Blackman gave an exceptionally interesting, informal talk on the founding and setting of Warren.

Light refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program.

After Another Record

Depressions, wars, and troubles of all sorts may come and go, but the Class of '29 survives forever, according to what is heard of plans for the 20th reunion of the Warren High School Class of 1929.

Emily Eaton Swartz and Bertha Fraring Knapp are co-chairmen of the '29 committee which has been working all winter on plans for the class reunion, which is scheduled for July 23. Other members of the committee are Charles Cable, Gladys Hoegstedt Culbertson, Willard Wineriter, and Nelson A. Johnson. Beginning last fall this committee started corresponding with each member of the class of '29. To date, contact has been established with every living member of the class, with the exception of four classmates who have not yet been located. Those members are Betty Field, Clarence Howe, Martha Mortenson Copenhaver, and Gaylord Burton. Any reader who knows the present address of any of these persons is asked to convey the information to some member of the committee.

The committee is planning to compile a reunion booklet which will describe the history of each classmate since the graduation in 1929. A number of the questionnaires sent out for this purpose have not yet been answered. Each '29 graduate who has not yet returned the completed questionnaire is asked to do so promptly, in order to make sure that information about him will be included in the publication.

The Class of 1929 claims to have the all-time record for consecutive class reunions. Warren High School Classes of 1919 and 1925 had established earlier records of ten consecutive annual reunions. The Class of '29 shattered those records by having twelve consecutive annual reunions, each of which was a festive and highly successful occasion. The present committee, however, predicts that the 20th reunion will surpass by fantastic heights all earlier meetings. Replies from class members all over the country already indicate that a large attendance will be guaranteed.

Further announcements about the reunion plans will be made from time to time during the next three months.

Social Events

JAYCEE CONCERT RENEWAL DEADLINE

Members of the Jaycee Concert Series in 1948-49 are again reminded that after tonight the membership will be thrown open to all comers and renewal preference will come to an end. Fred Thompson, chairman of the music committee, also reminds workers that their renewal reports are to be made tonight and may be done by calling 2992-J.

EAGLES' AUXILIARY

President Winnie Peterson was in charge of the regular meeting of the Lady Eagles held last evening, when five candidates were accepted into the membership. White elephants were awarded to Wilma Cook; the attendance prize to Ellen Johnson. Plans were completed for a dinner-meeting to be held at 6 p. m. next Tuesday, April 26, honoring all those having April and May birthday anniversaries.

BETHEL WSWs MEETING

Twenty-two members and five Guild girls were present for the first meeting of the new year held by the WSWs of Bethel Evangelical United Brethren church. Mrs. Roger Morey, wife of the pastor, had charge of a very interesting program on "China." A lengthy business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Ray Sperry, after which lunch was served by Mrs. Leckliter and Mrs. Duff.

TICKET SALE FOR STENOGRAPHERS' SHOW

Tickets for the Stenographers' Club Style Show to be given in the Warren High School auditorium on May 6, 8 and 9 p. m., will go on sale tomorrow and may be obtained from any member of the club or from the club advisor, Miss Jean Steele.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Spatofore, 108 Westmore street, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen Rose, to Richard G. Olson, son of Oscar Olson, also of Warren. The marriage will take place late in May.

KALBFUS AUXILIARY

Auxiliary members will gather Thursday morning at the Kalbfus Rod and Gun Club house for a work bee, to be followed by the regular luncheon-meeting at one o'clock.

TIONA AID SOCIETY

The Tiona Ladies Aid will meet Friday afternoon at two o'clock in the home of Mrs. Hugh McClellan.

For welfare legislation, racial equality and world unity. Wise humanitarian endeavors brought him the respect and admiration of Jews and Christians alike.

Members of both faiths flocked to the "Free Synagogue," at 49 West 68th street, where he held services on Sunday as well as on the Jewish Sabbath.

He established the synagogue in 1907, after refusing an offer to become rabbi of the Temple Emanuel-El, New York's wealthiest Jewish congregation.

Born in Budapest, Hungary, Wise was president in New York City. He was educated at the City College of New York, Columbia University, Syracuse University and the University of Oregon.

IN PRISON ON PAROLE

Pittsburgh, April 20.—(P)—John J. Mulroy will have to stay in prison, even though he's on parole. Federal District Judge Nelson McVicar yesterday ruled Mulroy must serve a two-year federal sentence while on parole from the state. The Wheeling, W. Va., resident was convicted on a state charge of pandering and a federal white slavery charge in 1943.

Crash Victim Is Improving At Hospital

Continued improvement was reported at Warren General Hospital today in the condition of Arthur Courteau, 36-year-old Bradford youth who was injured yesterday when the motorcycle on which he was riding collided with a bus on the Warren-Kinzua road at Devil's Elbow.

Courteau suffered shock and other injuries, while the driver of the motorcycle, Andrew J. Johnston, 47, also of Bradford, was killed.

Johnston's body was removed to the Lutz funeral home pending receipt of word from relatives.

Officials said they had received word that a daughter, Miss Rosalie Johnston, of 888 Union street, Warren, Ohio, was enroute by train to Bradford, and probably would be brought to Warren by friends.

Two other daughters also survive. Coroner Ed C. Lowrey, who investigated the accident along with Pennsylvania State Police and Sheriff L. E. Linder, said a certificate of accidental death would be issued.

Johnston's motorcycle, which was practically demolished, was towed to Morrison's garage in Kinzua. The bus, owned by Mrs. George Morey, wife of the pastor, had charge of a very interesting program on "China." A lengthy business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Ray Sperry, after which lunch was served by Mrs. Leckliter and Mrs. Duff.

CRASH AT OVERHEAD

Damage estimated at $200 was caused today when two automobiles collided at 8:45 a. m. today at Irvine overhead in Route 6, west of Warren. No one was hurt. Pennsylvania State Police said the accident involved a westbound car operated by Joseph Kolanda of Buffalo, and an eastbound automobile driven by H. M. Calhoun, of 505 15th street, Franklin. The Buffalo driver, officials reported, had passed another machine before reaching the overhead, but apparently did not have time to return to his own lane before his car collided with the Franklin machine as it came off the overhead.

LAWMAKERS ON SPOT

Harrisburg, April 20.—(P)—Pennsylvania's lawmakers looked to the State Justice Department today to take them off the hot spot of exempting farmers from the state gasoline tax. One prominent house Republican, who declined quotation by name, disclosed that Attorney General T. McKen Chidsey has informally ruled such an exemption is unconstitutional.

Obituary

Unless otherwise stated, visiting hours at Warren's funeral homes are from 10 a. m. to 12; 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

MRS. C. J. CHRISTIAN

Sheffield, April 20.—Mrs. C. J. Christian, well known resident of this section for many years, died at her home on Austin Hill at 2:10 a. m. today. She was born in Sweden on October 23, 1859, and came to Sheffield in 1887. Surviving her are five sons and four daughters. Arrangements for services in her memory are being made by the Borden Funeral Home but have not been completed.

ALMA V. GUSTAFSON

Sheffield, April 20.—Mrs. Alma Gustafson, who has been in ill health for the past nine years and confined to her bed for two years, died at 2:45 a. m. today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Mortensen, in Ludlow. She was born in Fradings, Smaland, Sweden, on December 21, 1877, and had been a resident of this section for many years.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Mortensen, she leaves two sons, Elmer and Harold Gustafson, and one grandson.

Removal has been made to the Borden Funeral Home, but arrangements for services in her memory have not been completed.

FRANK E. YEAGLE

Frank Russell RD 2 farmer, died at his home on the Warren-James-town road at 4:45 a. m. today. A resident of that community for the past 29 years, he formerly lived in Warren and was a member of the Pilgrim Holiness church here. He was born January 13, 1872, in Warren, and had spent his entire lifetime in this section.

Besides his wife, Anna E. Yeagle, he leaves four children, Warren Yeagle, of Russell; Mrs. Jane Hildum, of Selingsgrove; Mrs. Marie Johnson, Venturatown, and Lee Yeagle, at home; also seven grandchildren; two brothers, John and Charles Yeagle, Warren.

Removal has been made to the Peterson Funeral Home, where the body is being received at the regular calling hours and from where services in his memory will be held at two o'clock Friday afternoon. Rev. J. D. Abbott will officiate, and interment will be made in Pine Grove cemetery at Russell.

MRS. OLIVE KUHLE

Mrs. Olive Kuhl, 70, a resident of this section for 30 years, died at the home of a grandson, Donald Fitzgerald, Kane, Monday evening at 9 o'clock following a long illness.

A member of the First Methodist church, Mrs. Kuhl was born in Sigel, on May 23, 1879. Her husband, Peter, died in 1943. She is survived by one son, Fred Jackson, Endeavor, three daughters, Mrs. Emory Wilson, Kane, Mrs. George Willow, Buffalo, and Mrs. Mildred Grimes, Olean; 11 grandchildren.

BERTHA W. LYONS

Services in memory of Mrs. Bertha W. Lyons, 15 West Third avenue, were held at the Lutz Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, with the Rev. William Chamberlain officiating. The pallbearers were Carl Wheelock, Robert Wheelock, Homer Fitch, William R. Simmons, Ernest Stewart and Karl Peterson. Interment was in Oakland cemetery.

The following were present from out of town: Mrs. H. A. Har-Elizabeth Wheelock, Miss Bertha Wheelock, DuBois; Mr. and Mrs. W. K. McCrary, Spencer, W. Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wheelock, Pittsburg.

Admiral Kirk Ambassador to Moscow

(From Page One)

During World War II, he participated in the Allied landing operations in Sicily as commander of the amphibious force of the United States Atlantic fleet. He was one of a group of Allied officers who prepared and directed naval phases of the cross-channel invasion of France.

As envoy to Belgium-Luxembourg, Kirk has been concerned chiefly with American relations with western Europe and has not been identified with the more violent phases of the "cold war" with Russia.

This presumably figured importantly in his selection for the hottest spot in the American diplomatic service.

It means he goes to Moscow with an open record, from the Soviet standpoint. That might influence the Russians if, as some diplomats anticipate, the Kremlin should decide to negotiate for a real truce in the cold war.

ALL DIESEL SERVICE ON ERIE RAILROAD

Cleveland, April 20.—(P)—Erie Railroad's all-diesel passenger service between Pittsburgh and Cleveland was dedicated today. Industrialists and civic leaders from Youngstown, Pittsburgh and Cleveland attended.

The occasion also marked a new right-of-way enabling Erie passengers to use the Cleveland-Union Terminal beginning next Sunday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stevenson, daughter of Erie President Robert E. Woodruff, christened a 4,000-horsepower locomotive with a bottle of smoke to symbolize the elimination of steam power on the Pittsburgh run.

Market Quotations

New York, April 20.—(P)—A comparatively brisk advance in General Electric common stock highlighted a torpid stock market today.

GE moved up to 37 1/2 for a net gain of 1/2 point after an opening sale of 1,200 shares at a gain of 1/2. The advance was a second day response to yesterday's favorable first quarter earnings report. Initial response yesterday was a decline on the day of 1/2. GE reported net profit for the three months of $26,702,978, equal to 93 cents a common share, compared with $25,389,149, or 88 cents a share, in the comparable 1948 period.

Hal Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—Is television
any more than keeping your mouth
a-wide and your eyes a-gleam?
I don't know for sure except I've been on the darn thing. That is, I've been on a television program.

Just how to talk to the rest of you who haven't had this adventure I'm not sure. After all, you don't know, do you?

In other words, life has passed
you by. And I, like a good fellow, want to tell you what it's like.

I would say there are two ways to meet television—male and female. I am male. That is the downstairs technique. You sit there on a couch until the program starts.

Ah, but if you are female! That is a different matter. That is the technique above. The lady goes up stairs and gets herself overhauled
—as if a simple thing like that would surprise you when she came back down.

But it does surprise you. If it doesn't you are no gentleman at
all. It is like little girls running up the steps and playing mamma red Indian. When the girls come hoppity-step down, you just have to mention that Miami sunburn
on their faces.

Of course the selfish male—and what male isn't selfish?—may wonder why they don't bother to put an indoor tan on his face. The answer is very simple. Who cares about him anyway?

At the present stage of television the only people who take care to see that they look right on television are those who earn their daily bread that way. And guest ladies. You know guest ladies always want things done right.

And guest men? Well, I was a guest man. There I was—and what was I to say?

They don't tell you that. All of a sudden the lights come on.
The lights really come on under television. They come on fast and hard.

And all of a moment there you are with two or three cameras pointed at you waiting for you to say something important. And all you can think is "what will posterity think?"

And posterity isn't even on the program—that is one thing that isn't scheduled by television yet.
Well, you are between two girls and you are supposed to be talking about a book called "How to be Happy While Single."

And you say you don't think anybody can be ecstatically happy single or any other way. And the lights get hotter and the questions come faster and finally you wind up trying to defend this idea:

"Everybody has to be lonely in this world, but marriage makes it possible for two people who like or respect each other to be less lonely together."

After that I lost all sense of television. I was up to my ears in female argument. Not an unfamiliar position, either, for a man married high twelve happy years.

Action is Defined on Rents For Recontrolled Properties

In answer to many queries from Northwestern Pennsylvania landlords, Area Rent Director Frank L. Anderson has defined the action to be taken by owners whose rental property is recontrolled or brought under rent control for the first time by the new Rent Control Act.

Rent Control applies now to all rental housing units which were previously decontrolled because they were not rented for any successive 24-month period between February 1, 1945 and March 30, 1948. Landlords have until April 30 to register any of these units which were never under rent control. Previously registered units need not be re-registered, but the owners are advised to show the registration statements to the present tenant. The landlord cannot charge more than the maximum rent shown in the registration statement, plus or minus approved adjustments.

Landlords may obtain assistance in preparing registration statements at the rent office at Erie or Meadville or at the special office hours held in Sharon, Farrell, Franklin, Oil City, Titusville, Greenville, and Grove City.
The registration forms will be mailed out on written request or by a call to the Erie or Meadville office.

Also recontrolled are all accommodations which were decontrolled because a 1947 voluntary rent increase lease was terminated prior to April 1, 1948. These are now recontrolled at their old lease rent and the landlord must file a report of termination statement with the area rent office by April 15, unless he has previously filed such a report. Accommodations covered by leases which expired or terminated on or after April 1, 1948 have been and still are subject to rent control.

Trailers and trailer spaces which on April 1, 1949 were not used exclusively for transient occupancy, are again subject to rent control. A trailer or trailer space is considered to have been used exclusively for transient occupancy on April 1 if it was rented on a daily basis to a tenant and then only if the tenant had not been in continuous occupancy since March 1, 1949. Hereafter, rents or fees for increased services on re-controlled units may be charged only on order of the area rent director.

The rental rate for recontrolled trailer accommodations will be the last maximum rent in effect under federal rent control, which was not later than January 4, 1948.
Any trailer unit which did not have a maximum rent in effect on or before January 4, 1948, must be registered with the area rent office by April 30, 1949, at the rent
first charged after January 4, 1948.

Calf Club At Garland Has Busy Session

Cole Hill, April 19—Charles Camp, Sr., with his son, Charles, and daughter, Frances, and Willis Wentworth and daughter, Charlotte, attended the 4-H Calf Club meeting held at the home of
Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bosko, Davy
Hill.

The meeting was called to order
by the vice president, Charles Camp, Jr., as the president, Gordon Holmes, was a patient in the Warren General hospital, recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident. Management of the meeting was discussed with John Smith, assistant farm agent of Warren county, as chairman. Following the discussion, two reels of moving pictures on landscaping of farm homes were shown to the club membership by Mr. Smith, with emphasis on methods of placing shrubs. Most of the pictures had been taken of farm homes in southern Pennsylvania. Four new members, 11 years of age were enrolled at this meeting making 13 members on roll. The new members were: Larry Peterson of Torpedo; William Battko, Jr. and Victor, Battko, of Davy Hill, and Forest Schell. Following the meeting luncheon was served by Mrs. Bosko. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Charles Camp on Cole
Hill, May 10th.

Sunday school will be held next Sunday in the Torpedo Community church at 10:30, daylight saving time. The school had an attendance of 36 Sunday and there are 36 on the membership roll.
Preaching services will be held next Sunday at 2:30 p. m., with Rev. Verl Walker, of Tidioute, in charge.

The Sunday Gnt. published at Williamsport, carried pictures of five women fire tower operators in their news section Sunday. One of these was Miss Doris Creve, of Cole Hill, who has been on the Cole Hill fire tower for the past four years. The pictures were taken last September by Hal Harrison, of Tarentum.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Holden and children, of Bradford, were Sunday guests of the latter's parents, Mr.
and Mrs. L. L. Dey, at Torpedo.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Camp, of Clymer, N. Y., were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Camp and family, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Martin attended Sunday school in Youngs-ville, Sunday.

Fishermen took to the streams
Friday, the opening day of trout season and several nice catches have been reported for the first day. George Teconchuk, of Pittsfield, was the first to come home early with the day's catch.

Charlotte Wentworth celebrated her 14th birthday anniversary with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wentworth, Wednesday.

Benton Van Guilder, of Grand Valley, was over the hill Tuesday buying livestock.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Eastman
and son, Lewis, and daughter, Mildred, motored to Marienville
and visited the latter's parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Wales Hannah, last Saturday and Sunday. They were accompanied home by Mrs. East-man's sister, Barbara, who is spending a few days with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wentworth and daughters, Doris and Sarah,
and son, George, were Youngsville visitors Monday.

The farmers on Cole Hill have their oats planted as well as their early gardens in.

The school children will go back to school Tuesday after an Easter vacation of two days.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
New York—(AP)—The price gap between the "popular" and the "quality" men's suits is going to be wider than ever next fall. And, apparently, it is going to be left to the retailer, largely, to promote sales. Unless, that is, some-thing gives meantime in the log-jam between the woolen mills and consumer.
If you buy your suits in the low-priced lines, you can save a little money next fall on your new fit, according to the announcement of fall lines this week by the manufacturers.
If you are accustomed to buying in the higher priced bracket, you can expect to pay just what you did last year.
If you are a middle-of-the-road type, you may find quotations on down-graded suits only slightly higher, but instead of price cuts you will be offered better fabric use, higher styling and brighter-fresher colors.
Price cuts in the popular price line run from 20 cents to $5 a suit. However, the "quality" manufacturers, more in sorrow than in anger, state that since the woolen prices are mostly unchanged, the wholesale suit prices are, almost no one professes to be up about the situation.
Woolen mill prices on fall line, especially about the same as last year, are being cut unofficially in some instances for the benefit of the suit manufacturers, one of whom says. And this has made possible such price cuts on suits as are being announced.
Some mills, gloomy because of fall fabrics to cutters have been unusually slow, are reportedly ready to write off the season as a disappointment, and get ready to bring out next spring's lines. These are usually opened in late summer, but may be moved up this year to late June or July. If they don't sell the fall lines as hoped, the mills will have plenty of time on their hands to get ready the spring fabrics.

There is talk, perhaps wishful thinking, that by then the mills will have found ways to cut fabric prices by 5 to 20 per cent. Much of this hope is based on reports from Australia that prices on fine wools there are weakening, after reaching all-time peaks.

"As straight as the crow flies" is a well known saying, but crows don't fly that way. Their flight pattern is usually zigzag.

Furniture Store Is Featuring Unique Mattress Display

A new and unique type of display, known as the X-Ray Mattress Display, will enable prospective retail buyers to see the inside of a mattress and to study its construction before making their decision. This new X-ray display will be featured by the Bartsch Furniture Company, C. F. Bartsch, owner, announced today.
The X-Ray Mattress Display has been developed to give retail customers an opportunity to see just what is inside mattresses and how they are constructed without tearing them apart.
"Until this new display was developed a mattress buyer could inspect only the outside of the mattress," Mr. Bartsch said. "Now she will have no trouble studying its interior construction in detail. Once she does this she will understand why, for example, the Beautyrest is so durable and can last through in the laboratories of take the severe punishment it is the United States Testing Company, Inc.
"In the torture test, for example, the mattress is placed on an especially designed machine. A 275-pound roller rolls back and forth across the mattress under test, night and day. On Beautyrests these rollers have been applied in this manner more than a million rolls before a single spring broke. The competitive tests broke their first springs after a maximum of 521,000 rolls and a minimum of 81,000 rolls. Tests such as these have won for this product the Certified Merchandise Seal of Quality of the U. S. Testing Laboratories."
This new X-ray display will be installed in time for National Beautyrest Week, which begins April 20th, coincident with the National Sleep Show. This week, in which Bartsch's will participate, is dedicated to more luxurious rest and to the improvements in sleeping accommodations that make this possible. It is the first time since before the war that the Simmons Company has sponsored such a week and is a reflection of the increased production which has made available the largest variety of its mattresses ever shown.

ANGLER SAVED
Charles McCauley, 24, of West-Over, Clearfield county, was saved from a watery death Tuesday in McCoy's Dam, near Milesburg, by the timely action of trout fishermen who rescued him when his car plunged into the water. Attracted by the splash and wave thrown up by the car when it hit the water after going out of control on Route 53, fishermen saw the car in the water and helped the occupant to escape himself and pulled him ashore.

He Was 'Dead' for Three Minutes

Tommy Billings, 6, relaxes happily in a New York hospital after being "dead" for three minutes while on the operating table to have his adenoids removed. When the youngster's heart stopped beating, Lt.-Comdr. Richard Gaillard made a two-inch incision (note scar on boy's chest) over Tommy's heart and massaged it until it began beating again.

Musical Treat Is Scheduled Next Monday

Lovers of "mountain music" have a treat in store for them Monday, April 25th, when a comedy girls' sextette from Pikeville College, in the mountains of eastern Kentucky, will appear at the First Presbyterian church at 8 p. m.
The girls' sextette is appearing in several towns in western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio as part of a spring tour they are making on visits to leading Presbyterian congregations. They are accompanied on their trip by A. A. Page, president of Pikeville College.
The program will consist of mountain ballads, folk songs and hymns and is of a pleasing and well selected choice of music. In addition, Dr. Page will give a short address on educational work in the mountainous retreat in which his college is located, with special emphasis on what the Presbyterian church has done for his school.
The college, founded in 1859, is co-educational in character with a well diversified curriculum. Agriculture, dairying, music, home economics and other related courses are offered its several hundred students. Its graduates have made good in many professions, many entering the ministry or missionary work under the auspices of the Presbyterian church.
The visit of this girls' sextette and their college president will be of particular interest to many members and friends of the local Presbyterian church. Rev. Alan Vinton, now a missionary, was formerly an instructor at Pikeville as was Mrs. Brackett Ayers, now active in Sunday school and young peoples work in the church. Many of the Sunday school classes and Missionary societies of the church make annual contributions to the work of this college. All members and friends of the church are urged to be present this Monday at 8 p. m., and to enjoy the program of music which will be offered.

National Red Cross Quota Is Exceeded

In a special release made this morning by E. Roland Harriman, chairman of the National Red Cross Fund, it was announced that the $60,000,000 campaign quota had been exceeded by some two million dollars with many large centers of the country still to make their final reports.
In this connection it is of interest to Warren county folks to learn that the Warren county campaign, which extended through the month of March, was well over-subscribed before the end of the month. The total asked for was $13,825.00 and through April 16th there had been reported $17,766.07. This sum, which will be increased slightly by some late gifts, represents approximately 77% more than quota and was made up of gifts and subscriptions from about 3,000 individual sources. Included in the $17,766.07 total were gifts from 2,804 individuals and the balance came from clubs, corporations, chain stores and other industrial organizations.

Local headquarters announced that the $6,825.00 which was the national Red Cross part of the $13,825.00 had already been forwarded to National Headquarters and in thanking the local chapter for this money it was stated that Warren was the first town in this area to send in their national quota in the recent campaign.
Mr. Harriman in thanking the local chapter, went on to say that the money raised will be used for continuing service to men in the armed forces and to war veterans for relief and rehabilitation in time of disaster, for continuing the important work of the organization's new National Blood Program, and for traditional Red Cross activities in the health, safety and educational fields.

Hospital To Be Theme Of Radio Forum

Next Sunday heralds the initial program of "Let's Look At Warren". Sponsored by the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce through the cooperation of WNAE the program is scheduled for 8:30 p. m.
The committee consisting of William Lutz, Glenn Nelson, and Francis Buchanan today announced the panel for the first discussion—The Hospital Question. They are Dr. Wm. M. Cashman, local physician and surgeon; Alexander C. Flick, prominent attorney; Raymond Viner Hall, architect; Frank Cruickshank, Struthers Wells Corporation. Moderator will be Francis J. Buchanan, Pennsylvania State Employment Service.
The first twenty minutes of the program will be devoted to discussion, while the last ten minutes will be left open for telephone questions by the listening audience.
Mr. Flick is public relations chairman for the Warren General Hospital fund drives while Mr. Hall is a well known architect of has recently designed the new Port Allegheny, New York. He is an exponent of the modern type of architecture. Dr. Cashman is a well known member of the hospital staff and Mr. Cruickshank

Schedule For Mails Under Daylight Time

Train and mail schedules will be affected by the city's change to daylight savings time beginning next Sunday morning.

According to Postmaster James T. Bell, the postoffice windows, routes and city carriers will operate on daylight time. Because of this fact, mail which comes in the morning trains will not be available in the city for morning delivery inasmuch as trains will be operating on standard time and will arrive here later. This mail will go out in the afternoon trips.

Outgoing mail should be in the postoffice at least 45 minutes before train departure time in order to insure its dispatch.

The summer times for trains arriving and leaving Warren on the Pennsylvania Railroad will be as follows:

Number 970 eastbound remains at 8:30 a. m. standard time. Number 581 westbound remains at 7:16 a. m. standard time.

Number 971 westbound will leave Warren at 7:31 p. m. standard time. Number 580 eastbound will leave at 8:15 p. m. standard time. All the above trains are daily.

On Sunday, number 973 westbound will leave here at 6:51 p. m. standard time.

District Meet Of Girl Scouts Here Friday

The Warren County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc., will be in session on Friday of this week for the Section I, Region III, committee, scheduled to open at 10 a. m. in the Hotel Carver. The section comprises the northwestern portion of Pennsylvania.

The regional chairman, Miss Eleanor Hoover, will be present for the session, as will the community advisor of the national staff, Miss Leotta Hawthorne.

Reports from communities represented will be given in the morning, also notes from national and regional meetings. The afternoon sessions will be a business meeting for members of the section committee, while members of program committees will meet with Miss Marjorie Smith, of the Erie Girl Scout staff, for a discussion on "How the Program Committee May Promote the Out-of-Door Program."

Members of the Warren Council serving on the sectional committee are Mrs. Harold Stohl and Mrs. Ralph Van Ord.

Tie Match Is Fired In Revolver Loop

One of two scheduled tie-breaking matches in the Warren Revolver League was fired on the Municipal building range last night—but nothing was settled.

The Company I and Youngville American Legion squads squared off to settle a tie for third place on the league ladder, but when the scores were added up, each squad had fired a 960 score. It was the first time a Warren Revolver League match had ended in a draw this year.

A second tie-breaking match between the Irvine and Compianter squads to decide the league championship was postponed until Tuesday evening, April 26. The second match between Company I and Youngville also will be fired the same night.

Summary of last night's tie match:

COMPANY I	YOUNGVILLE
Brenneman ..... 84 92	82-258
Fitzgerald ..... 77 87	84-248
McMeans ..... 64 80	87-231

Christ For Warren Series In Local Church

"Invincible Witness" was the theme of the message delivered by Rev. John Barbee last evening for the third in the two weeks' series of Christ for Warren County evangelistic services being held in Bethlehem Covenant church.

Once more Jimmie Davis thrilled the congregation with his gospel singing and the playing of his trumpet during the congregational singing. "He is a song leader who really can make people sing," those who attend the services are saying.

Mr. Barbee stated that the world's greatest message, "that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures," God "entrusted to cringing, cowardly disciples to proclaim. It was up to them to get it across. The only people who can find beauty in the death of Christ are blood-bought sinners. They are His messengers. For He gives to those who have found Him and know Him the responsibility of being His witnesses to this world. It is through men that God brings His message to man."

He said, "A witness is one who tells what he knows. The reason why so many never witness for Christ is simply that they do not know Him. We must know Christ to be His witnesses. And we must know that we are saved, and know the Gospel that Jesus died for our sins, was buried, arose again from the dead, is ascended into heaven, and is coming again to live His testimony," he stated. "Our testimony will fall on deaf ears, if we Christians do not live up to what we say. We weaken our testimony through a fallible life. In order to be trustworthy witnesses, we must have a trustworthy life."

"A witness takes a sacred oath to tell the whole truth. Many are living in darkness because some are not declaring the whole truth of God's Word. That is why the average person does not know he must be 'born again.' This message that those who are not saved are lost and on the way to eternal hell must be proclaimed, as well as the Gospel proclamation that Christ is coming back again."

Tonight's message will be entitled, "When Revivals Become Popular."

Members are reminded of the meeting of the Knights of Columbus Thursday evening at 8:15 in the lodge rooms. Following the session there will be a meeting of the bowlers to complete arrangements for the trip to Rochester, N. Y., to compete in the National K. of C. tournament Saturday and Sunday, April 30 and May 1. Luncheon and social time will be enjoyed later in the evening.

LOST IN TITUSVILLE

Titusville Herald: An elderly man (sober) came to police headquarters yesterday afternoon and told the officers he was lost. He explained he was a resident of the Spring Creek road and did not get into town very often. He had been visiting a relative somewhere in the city, he said, and after coming to the business section was unable to remember how to get back to the relatives' home. The only "clue" he could furnish was that just as he was leaving to come downtown he noticed a policeman going into a home across the road from where he was staying. The Chief scratched his head and recalled that he and another officer had been at one home that afternoon. He placed the lost one in the cruiser and took him to that house. When they arrived the latter immediately recognized the neighborhood and the home from which he had "strayed."

Tea probably was the first artificially concocted human drink. It dates back more than 4700 years in China.

Junior Baseball Loop Sets May 17 Opener

The Junior Baseball League will operate this year as a six-team circuit, with the season to get an early start on Tuesday, May 17.

The six-team league roster was drawn at a meeting of team representatives and managers in the editorial rooms of the Times-Mirror last night.

The teams are:

G. G. Greenes (Nick Creola, manager),

Youngville American Legion (Jack Wood, manager),

North Warren (manager to be named),

Conewango (Dr. C. S. Reese, manager),

Starbuck (Louis Newark, manager),

East Side (manager to be named).

Games will be played on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and each of the six teams will have a home field. Games will start at 6:30 o'clock. Home teams will warm up from 6 to 6:15 p. m. and visiting teams will get in their practice ticks from 6:15 to 6:30. The umpire will be instructed to call for the starting lineups at 6:25 o'clock, and give the "play ball" signal at 6:30 sharp.

Games will be seven-innings in length.

Bob Moorhead, sports editor of the Times-Mirror, was named president of the league, succeeding Cy Little, who is now in Harrisburg.

Next meeting of the Junior League will be held in the Times-Mirror editorial offices on Tuesday night, May 10, at 8 o'clock. Team rosters will be filed at that time and the first half schedule will be drawn.

Feller's Failure Furnishes Most Disturbing Note of the Major League Baseball Opener

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Bobby Feller's failure is the most disturbing note of the major league baseball openers which otherwise read like a carbon copy of 1943.

A year ago Bobby pitched a two-hit shutout opening day as the Cleveland Indians rushed into a six-game winning streak. Before they stopped winning, they were world champions.

Yesterday Feller was yanked after two innings because of wildness and a sore arm. He yielded one run as the Indians lost to the upstart St. Louis Browns, 5-1. Ned Garver scattered seven hits to beat the champs before 13,817, the Browns' largest opening crowd in 15 years.

"Throwing too hard too soon gave me a little trouble," Feller said afterwards. "Three to five days rest and a few warm days should have me back in shape."

Otherwise things were normal.

Rip Sewell of Pittsburgh, regaining his favorite job—hosting the Chicago Cubs. He scored his 10th opening day triumph, 1-0. Lou Brissie, the Philadelphia A's brilliant second-year man, repeated his 1943 rookie job of spoiling the opener for the Boston Red Sox, 3-2. Larry Jansen of the New York Giants continued to find it tough to whip Brooklyn, losing 10-3 under a deluge of homers by Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella and Carl Furillo.

With outfielder Joe DiMaggio on the bench in street clothes, the New York Yankees shaded Washington, 3-2, on a ninth inning home run by Tommy Henrich.

Both the Indians and Red Sox picked 1-2 by a 112 of 120 baseball writers participating in the annual Associated Press pennant poll, were beaten. It was an old story for the Sox who dropped five of their first six starts a year ago.

The Athletics' Brissie, the boy with the war-shattered leg, was hard pressed in the late innings but a great catch by Sam Chapman on Bobby Doerr's long drive in the eighth got him out of trouble.

Eddie Joost hit a game-winning homer off Joe Doherty in the seventh inning to square the A's at 1-1 for the season before 19,897 at Shibe Park.

Cleveland's pitching staff, tabbed "best in baseball," used Feller, Early Wynn, Mike Garcia and Satchel Paige against the Browns. Feller gave only one hit, a triple by Jack Graham, but walked three.

The largest crowd was 53,435, a Briggs Stadium opening record, that came to see the Detroit Tigers thump the Chicago White Sox, 5-1. Rookie Johnny Groth, the Buffalo sensation, broke in the right way with a pair of home runs on successive times at bat against Al Gettel. Hal Newhouse, who whipped the White Sox last year, did it again, with a three-hitter.

Brooklyn started off as though it meant to wrap up the flag in July by numbering the New York Giants with a power attack. Joe Hatten gave up 10 hits, coasting home as the Dodgers rocked Jansen, the Giants ace. A crowd of 34,530 set a new Ebbets Field opening mark.

Bouncing back from Monday's shutout by Ken Heintzleman, the Boston Braves whipped the Philadelphia Phillies twice, 4-3 and 11-2 before a Patriots' Day crowd of 30,357.

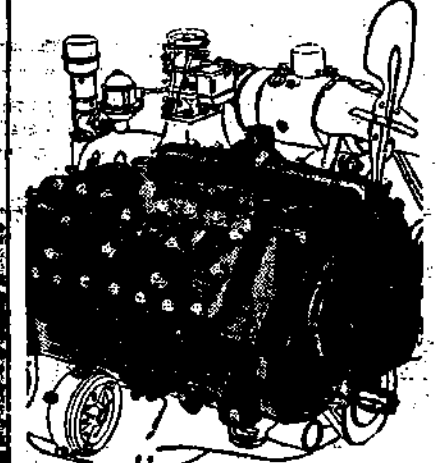

Cincinnati capitalized on errors to whip the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-1. All the Reds' runs were unearned and came on errors by Nippy Jones and Tommy Glaviano. The Cards' Harry Brecheen was the mound victim. The crowd at Cincinnati was 32,118.

Meetings Announced For Softball Loops

Softball league organization meetings will be held in Warren tonight and tomorrow.

The meeting tonight will be for teams interested in enrolling in the Church-YMCA Softball League. It will be held in the Business Men's Locker Room of the YMCA, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

The Thursday night meeting will be for any team interested in signing up in the City Softball League. The confab will be held in the Recreation Center near the Carver hotel, starting at 7 o'clock.

So far, four teams have indicated their intention of competing in the City loop. They are: Bill's Welding Shop, Sons of Italy, Maroon Club, and Emblem Oil. A fifth team, Warren Company, is also reported interested in entering a team.

Industrial League Officers Relected

Bernard Joy was re-elected president of the Industrial Tenpin League for the 18th consecutive year at a league meeting last night. Named as secretary-treasurer was Marshall Johnson.

The meeting was held after the regular league session on Penn slides in which Check Brothers annexed the second-half championship, despite a 2-1 defeat by Timmis Bros. Farr's Sport Shop stole the show last night, however, by posting a new league high match total of 2985 pins.

Checks will tangle with the first half winners in a roll-off next Tuesday night at 7 o'clock. Prize money for the season also will be distributed at that time.

Four of the Farr's team cracked the 600 ring as the new league mark was posted. Ernie Wilson hit for 633, Jim Urbanski for 629, Red Farr for 625, and Fred Baldensperger for 608.

Other high individual performers for the evening included Paul Steinkamp with 627 and Harry Wooster with 614, both for Timmis Bros.; and Frank Gerardi with an even 600 for Warren Food Lockers.

Capt. Trevenen rattled the maples for a 337-307-210-549 series to lead his team to a 3-1 triumph over the Carters in Conewango Club tenpin league firing last night. Scoring: Trevenen, 790 895 904-2589; Carters, 813 804 867-2484.

Local Boxers To Compete At Erie

Joe Fazio, local boxing instructor, plans to enter three local mittmen in an amateur show to be held Saturday night in the Erie Armory under sponsorship of the Erie Knights of Columbus.

Taking part in the show from here will be Delbert Dalrymple, 147 pounds, and Chuck Rahm, 167 pounds, both of Warren, and Martin Gustafson, of Russell.

Dalrymple will be paired against the Erie 147-pound class Golden Gloves novice champ. He is taking the place of another local boy, Dick Miller, who was unable to meet the weight classification.

The local boxers have been working out for some time at the YMCA under the supervision of Fazio.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

By The Associated Press
Baseball
New York—A turnout of 222,264 saw opening games in the major league's first full schedule.

At St. Louis, Denny Gardella's petition for immediate reinstatement into organized baseball rejected by Federal Judge Edward A. Conger.

Racing
Lexington, Ky.—Plumper, a 34-1 shot, beat Johns Joy, a Kentucky Derby favorite, to win the Walmace handicap at Keeneland.

Horse Racing
Miami, Fla.—Gulfstream Park closed Florida's horse racing season with attendance of 386,202 and wagering of $26,692,985 for 40-day meeting. A year ago the attendance was 348,937 and the betting $24,552,176.

Miscellaneous
Boston—Karl Gosta Leandersson of Sweden, won the Boston marathon in two hours, 31 minutes and 50.8 seconds.

Pinehurst, N. C.—Defending champion Harvie Ward of Tarboro, N. C., led favorites into the second round of the North South Amateur Golf tournament.

WARREN-HUDSON, INC.
1602 Penn'a Ave., West — Warren, Pa.

Why be satisfied with vague claims of "more" of this and "more" of that in a motor car? The New Hudson brings you—not just "more", but the most of all the things you want most! It's America's "4-most" car.

Most Beautiful! Millions vote the New Hudson "America's most beautiful!" No other car could so perfectly express artists' concepts of "the car of the future"—for only Hudson, with its "step-down" design, has the low build that is necessary for such beauty. The New Hudson is the lowest-built car on the highway—yet there's full road clearance.

Most Roomy! Hudson brings you—not just "more", but the most seating room in any mass-produced car... the most efficient use of interior space. Head room and leg room to spare!

Most Road-worthy! Even at high speeds or on winding roads, you ride relaxed—because your New Hudson hugs the highway... has the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car. You ride clear ahead of rear wheels, and within the base frame—down where the riding is most smooth, most steady, most safe.

Most All-round Performance! Again, Hudson brings you—not just "more", but most! The all-new, high-compression Super-Six engine is the most powerful American Six. Or you may choose the even more powerful Super-Eight. And Hudson brings you Center-Point Steering, Double-Safe Brakes and many more high-performance features—all engineered for long life, low upkeep cost.

DiMaggio's Heel Might Cause Breakup of Yank Dream Trio

NEW YORK—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio's heel could disassemble the Yankee dream outfield, one of the greatest in baseball history.

Charley Keller is highly questionable.

Tom Henrich may be needed at first base.

When the New York Yankees plucked young King Kong Keller from the Maryland campus, right under Clark Griffith's nose, Col. Jacob Ruppert was as pleased as he was with Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, the latter his pet player.

Colonel Ruppert wanted the Bombers to excel at everything, and he went far back into the records to find something at which to shoot.

When he first saw Keller in Newark in 1937, he predicted that soon the Yanks would have a fly-chasing triumvirate, outstripping the immortal Hooper-Lewis-Speaker trio that thrilled American League crowds from 1909 through '15.

So when he got a good gander at Keller with the Newark Bears, he heaped, and said: "Now we'll show those fellows who are always talking about Hooper, Lewis and Speaker."

Unfortunately, Colonel Ruppert did not live to see DiMaggio, Keller and Henrich perform as a unit. The man who built Yankee Stadium died Jan. 13, 1939, the year Keller broke in with the parent organization.

A lot of old-timers will tell you that DiMaggio, Keller and Henrich did not outdo Hooper, Lewis and Speaker, but they made a mighty fine stab at it.

THEY all hit a long ball, threw like rifles, ran like thieves, and were highly intelligent. Each was peculiarly adapted.

DiMaggio accomplished something that even the remarkable Gehrig could not do. The Big Boy from Fishermen's Wharf carried the club.

Colonel Ruppert personally scouted DiMaggio in a post-season game in the San Francisco Bay area.

He took a chance, and wound up okehing what turned out to be one of the great baseball bargains. DiMaggio threw out his knee while seated in a jammed jitney bus, of all things, in 1934.

This is why the Yankees got him for $25,000 and five players named Oscar Hocks, or something like that. They let the youngster remain with the Seals in '35, to be certain he was sound, among other things, and brought him up to put the breath of life back into the Yankees in '36.

When Commissioner Landis freed Henrich from the Cleveland chain in April, 1937, Colonel Ruppert gave the Massillon kid $25,000 for signing.

Keller had broken discs removed from his spine in June, 1947. Last summer, the soft-spoken chap from Frederickburg broke his throwing hand falling while making a shooting catch.

Now when he hits the ball, nothing much happens.

So this could be the closing chapter of an extraordinary baseball story.

Warren High to Open Track Season on Friday Afternoon

Warren high school's track team, coached by Harry Hutchings, will open its 1949 season Friday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock when the squad tangles with Oil City at Beatty Field.

The local squad has been working out for the past several weeks, and the team is expected to make a good showing in both the track and field events.

The Warren schedule also includes home matches with Titusville on Monday, April 25; Corry on Thursday, April 28; and Kane on Wednesday, May 4.

Triangular meets are slated with Johnsonburg and Kane at Smethport on May 7, and with Kane and Bradford on May 12.

The schedule also includes a dual meet at Oil City on May 17; district competition on May 21; and state competition on May 28.

WANTS GAMES
The Zelasko Motors team, Class A softball champion of Meadville last year, is seeking games with teams in the Warren district. Interested managers may write Zelasko Motor Service, 350 Linden street, Meadville.

Bi-State Golf Association To Meet Friday at Bradford

The Bi-State Golf Association will draw plans for the 1949 tournament at a meeting Friday night at 8:30 o'clock in Hotel Holley, Bradford.

President Pat Burke, of Smethport, mentioned May 11 as the possible opening date with the Kane Country Club, which has never played host to an open event, as the location for the season's series inaugural.

The Association also is expected to give consideration to pro-ladies mixed play this season.

In the meantime golf clubs throughout the district are pointing for a big season ahead.

Steve Pelch has arrived in Bradford to take over as pro at the Kane Country Club, where he succeeds John Trish.

Dan Gaskill, formerly at Conant, is the new pro at St. Eraspour, is the new pro at St. Bonaventure, while his brother, Bud, remains at Bolivar, N. Y.

Toby Lyons at the Conewango Club of Warren, Hugh Law at Olean's Bartlett Country Club and Armand Burice at Wellsville are other holdovers.

Al Polagay will be the new pro at Kane; Joe Vicerella remains at St. Marys, and Joe Stetz of Olean will be at Genesee, N. Y.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

BY POPULAR REQUEST, "CUMBERLAND" HAND

D. WILLIAM B. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Cavanaugh's Restaurant in New York City has been famous for its Irish lamb stew since 1876, so it seemed appropriate for a crowd of us to head for there on St. Patrick's Day. I asked Ray Doyle, been with the restaurant for 44 years, challenged us to cribbage. Pat O'Malley, who has been with the organization for 41 years, said, "For me, I love to push a few chips to the center of the table occasionally." The next one, Victor, with Cavanaugh's for 43 years, preferred casino.

The boys asked me to show them the famous hand that had all the cards in the deck and never took a trick. They meant the "Duke of Cumberland" hand.

It is an old auction bridge hand, of course, and the bidding I have given is just one of the ways it might be bid today. Let us assume that South opens the ace of diamonds. The poor declarer, with his four spades to the five-spot, felt quite miserable until after the opening lead, which he trumped with the deuce of spades. He led the three of spades and finessed the ten-spot then trumped a small diamond in his hand, dropping South's king. He led another spade, finessed the queen. The ace poked up the king, and all the diamonds were good. Thus East made 13 tricks against South, who held what looked like all the cards.

RAISE FOR TEACHERS
Pittsburgh, April 20—(AP)—About 1,000 school employees were voted a five per cent pay raise yesterday by the board of education. The wage boost is retroactive to Jan. 1. Peddler of Dreams By Peggy Dern

Chapter 2

"HELLO," said the young man, and gravely shook hands with Jason. "I'm Garrett Forbes. How do you do, Miss Horne?"

"I found the kids in Mr. Forbes' trailer," Jason explained.

"I thought they were swell," said Garrett. He held out a batch of magazines and said, "The one that looks like a talking French doll—lord, but she's a little beauty!—seemed to yearn to cut paper-dolls. And I don't imagine my customers—if any—will miss a few fashion magazines of two years ago, so I brought these along."

"It's very kind of you. Tippy will be enchanted," said Felicity, and took the magazines. "They came home raving about a man who had a million books and magazines in his trailer."

"And of course you wondered what was the big idea," said Garrett a trifle dryly.

Jason made room for him on the steps and their interest was so genuine that Garrett grinned and said lightly:

"Well, the idea was to trade the books and magazines to farmer-folk for whatever they had they didn't need—farm products and the like; and then, at the next town, sell the produce for whatever it would bring."

"Why—what a perfectly swell idea!" Felicity exclaimed.

Garrett chuckled. "So I thought when I left New York—but you'd be amazed how uninterested the farmer-folk are. It seems most of 'em have a book."

Felicity nodded. "Have you followed the main highway down alone? I got as lonely as the devil."

"Of course. Why?"

"Living along the main highway, with buses and cars going into town—with the dairymen's associations and things like that buying up their stuff, naturally they wouldn't be interested just in 'barter'."

Garrett studied her with sharpened interest.

"You mean I'll have to haunt the back roads and all that?" he asked.

"Naturally—if you expect to make anything from your idea," he shrugged. "Well, maybe it wasn't such a hot idea, after all."

"But it was—and is!" protested Felicity. "Why—it's wonderful! You're—you're a peddler of dreams, sort of."

GARRETT was studying her with more interest. "Tell me what I'll give you half interest if you'll help me carry out the idea."

Felicity caught her breath. "But that hardly sounds fair."

A half million full moons would be required to equal the light of the sun.

The church of St. Gereon, Cologne, Germany, still retains some of the ceramic paving tiles installed in the 12th century.

"Our mother is dead," Felicity said quietly. "And Dad is in New York—er—resting. Waiting for just the right part to make a comeback. He's an actor."

"And your children are traveling alone?"

Felicity's head went up and her brown eyes chilled just a little. "I'm scarcely a child, Mr. Forbes," she told him curtly. "I'll be twenty-three on Christmas Eve. Jay's almost sixteen. Even Ellen, the baby, is seven."

"Floss has been our family ever since I can remember," said Jay, wary of his changing voice with its disconcerting upwards swoops and its sudden descents. "I don't remember our mother, and the children don't remember theirs—all except Ellen. Her mother died only a couple of years ago."

"But I thought you were all brothers and sisters," protested Garrett, puzzled.

Felicity smiled. "Jason and I are," she answered. "Cornelia's mother was Dad's second wife. Tippy and Denny were born of my father's third marriage, and Ellen was born after Dad's third wife had divorced him and married someone else. But when the mother died, she wanted Dad to take Ellen—and so she's with us."

Jason was studying Garrett's face with a faintly amused, ever so slightly embarrassed look, and suddenly he said dryly, "Don't try to sort us out in your mind. Mr. Garrett. Just think of us as Felicity's family and that'll be pretty close to the truth. She's brought us up and well she's done a pretty swell job, seems to me."

"If there's any chance of your coming into a partnership with me, you have a right to know something about me. I'm Garrett Forbes. Twenty-five, sound in mind and limb, but I wouldn't be so certain about the mental part of it. In the last year or so I've had grave doubts. I won a Sweepstakes prize—seventy-five thousand beautiful round dollars—minus of course, taxes and the like of that. So I promptly went off the deep end and made a pretty thorough fool of myself. I woke up in the hospital with the cheering information that I'd about wrecked my nervous system and would have to take it easy for the next twelve months, if I hope to keep on living. While I was still under the sobering influence of this statement, I checked up on my financial resources and found that I had barely enough money left to get by on for a year, by exercising extreme caution. That, of course, was when the brilliant idea of working my way south via the old books, magazines and product route struck me. And I hoped to gather no end of material for that same great American novel, which was gathering dust among my effects."

He looked up at Felicity. "Well, now that you know the truth, how about that partnership?"

"Frankly, Mr. Forbes, we'd like it, but only if we feel we'd be sort of—well, taking advantage of you," said Felicity earnestly.

Garrett stood up and held out his hand, grinning down at her. "Then it's agreed! That's swell! This is going to be fun. We'll settle the details in the morning. Good-night."
